7th Fleet Ready to Evacuate Nationalist Forces

Can Deal With Any Red Moves, Admiral Says

Four Aircraft Carriers in Fleet, Fifth On the Way

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — America's powerful 7th Fleet was "on the alert and ready" today to evacuate Nationalist forces from the Red-threatened Tachen Islands.

The fleet's commander, Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, said his ships, planes and men were prepared to deal with any counter-move the Chinese Communists might attempt in the area.

All that is needed to set his force in motion, Pride said in an interview, is final orders from Washington where today President Eisenhower will present an extraordinary request to Congress for approval of defensive warfare—if necessary—to protect Formosa and its outposts.

Pride said his 7th Fleet now packs the might of four big aircraft carriers and has been assigned a fifth carrier which has not yet arrived on the scene.

Within Striking Distance

In addition, his task force comprises "some two or three cruisers and about 40 destroyers, plus support craft."

Naval sources said that potent force is within striking distance of the Tachen Islands, 200 miles north of Formosa.

Pride would say only, "If any eventuality should develop in that (the Tachen) area, we would be able to cope with it."

He said only the Communists know if the Reds will oppose what ever action the 7th Fleet is ordered to take in the tense Formosan Straits.

Very Grave Move

"It would be a very grave move," Pride said. "It would be a change in United States Policy. The President would need the concurrence of the people."

Asked if the 7th Fleet could cope with Chinese Communist air power at big bases at Shanghai and other nearby inland cities, Pride replied, "We very certainly could."

A naval spokesman said, "The 7th Fleet is on the alert, on time and ready for anything."

Naval sources here said the 10,000 man Nationalist garrison probably would be removed in the American destroyers under an umbrella of American planes.

The big question was whether the Communists would strike first. Nationalist intelligence sources said the Reds were rushing reinforcements of air, naval and land forces to the nearby invasion ports.

Pride conferred with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, Ambassador Karl Rankin and Gen. William C. Chase, commander of the U. S. advisory group here. Reliable sources said Chiang himself made the decision to give up the Tachens.

Tachen Island, the principal Nationalist base in the islands 200 miles north of Formosa, has been under Communist air attack for weeks. The Reds carried out 10 reconnaissance flights Sunday, usually the prelude to an air strike.

Mine Deaths at New Low in 1954, But Rate is Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Mines reported today that the number of deaths in the nation's coal mines dropped to a record low of 395 in 1954.

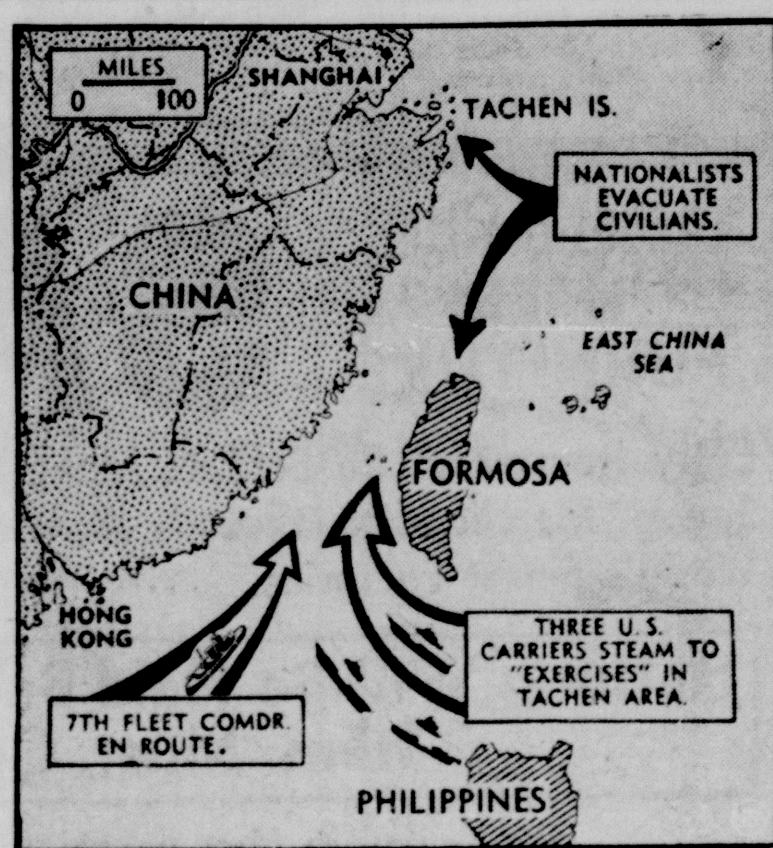

But the bureau added that the rate was 1.01 deaths per million man-hours compared to .84 for 1953.

The higher rate for 1954 was attributed largely to decreased coal-mining activities.

The previous low for the number killed in mining accidents was in 1953 when 460 lost their lives. The anthracite industry went through its second straight year with no major disasters.

There was a 28 per cent decline in the man-hours worked in bituminous mines from 1954 compared to 1953, the bureau said, and fatalities were down 16 per cent to 333 compared to 396 in 1953. The rate of fatal accidents was 17 per cent higher than in 1953.

Forbes said every agency is co-operating in what he called an "all-out drive" against the "roof-fall menace."

TENSION GROWS IN FAR EAST—Newsmag locates threefold development in the Far East as President Eisenhower sends Congress a message fixing the U. S. defense line in the Far East, and asking authority to use American air and sea forces if Communist China oversteps its bounds. Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet, is en route from Hong Kong to the Formosa Straits aboard the cruiser Helena. Three U. S. carriers, the Essex, Kearsarge and Yorktown, are steaming from the Philippines to Formosan waters, might, according to Far East reports, aid in evacuation of the Tachens. Civilians are being evacuated from the Tachen Islands by Nationalist China.

Carbondale Marine Recruiter Begins 100-Mile Hike to Aid March of Dimes

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Marine Staff Sgt. Richard Mitchell completed the first leg of his 100-mile March of Dimes hike 40 minutes ahead of schedule today with contributions passing the quota of a penny a step.

More than $211 was collected as Mitchell strode along Ill. 13 clad in combat uniform with a rifle slung over his shoulder. American Legionnaires collected contributions from motorists along the highway as he hiked from Murphysboro to Carbondale.

The Marine Corps recruiter plans to hike through 13 communities in four southern Illinois counties to raise $2,500 for the polio fund.

Mitchell was going strong as he came into the city with an escort of state police and sheriff's office cars. His schedule allowed three hours for the hike, which started at 8 a. m. with a musical sendoff by the Murphysboro high school band.

Carterville Destination Today

He planned to leave Carbondale at 1 p. m. and hike nine more miles west to Carterville, arriving at 4:30 p. m.

'Souped-Up Cocktails' Fell 47 on Carrier

HALIFAX, N. S. (AP) — The Navy began an investigation today into a "souped-up cocktail party" aboard the Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent that felled 47 sailors with methyl alcohol poisoning.

A naval spokesman said seven of the seamen were listed as dangerously ill and another seven as seriously ill.

Twelve naval doctors, assisted by a civilian specialist on internal medicine and teams of nurses, worked in round-the-clock shifts since Saturday morning in fighting to save the party-goers from possible death or blindness, the potential effects of methyl alcohol.

The alcohol, used in duplicating machines, was dumped into a weird "cocktail" mixed aboard the aircraft carrier for an impromptu, illegal party last Friday night.

Also stirred into the bathtub "punch" was ink, shaving lotion and ginger ale. It was served up in soup bowls to any seamen who chanced along.

A spokesman said many of the sailors who drank it did not know what it contained.

It was not until 10 a. m. Saturday that the first men started reporting sick. Ambulances rushed 40 men who reported feeling ill to a naval hospital. Seven others later reported at the hospital.

China Premier Warns Against Intervention

Says Liberation Of Formosa is An Internal Affair

LONDON (AP) — Red China's Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai today warned the United States against "intervention" in Communist China's "liberation" of Formosa.

"The government of the Peoples' Republic of China has repeatedly and in solemn terms declared to the world: 'The Chinese people are determined to liberate their own territory of Taiwan (Formosa),' the Red leaders said.

Diplomatic observers noted the similarity between Chou's warning statement today, and Red China's "solemn warnings" before Red Chinese troops entered the Korean war.

"Taiwan," the Chinese premier said, "is an inalienable part of China's territory. The liberation of Taiwan is a matter of China's sovereignty and internal affairs. No outside interference is allowed."

Chou quoted from Article 2, Paragraph 7 of the United Nations charter which forbids U. N. intervention in "matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of any state."

"Therefore," he said, "neither the United Nations nor any foreign country has the right to intervene in the Chinese People's liberation of Taiwan."

"The government of the Peoples' Republic of China absolutely cannot agree to a so-called cease-fire with the traitorous Chiang Kai-Shek (Nationalist Chinese leader), repudiated by the Chinese people."

Chou said that the Communist "liberation" of the China mainland and many coastal islands caused no tension in the Far East.

Blames Tension on U. S.

"The present tension in the Taiwan area can only be attributed to the fact that the United States government has occupied Taiwan, shielding the traitorous Chiang Kai-Shek clique and incessantly directed subversive activities and war threats against the Peoples' Republic of China."

Chou said the recently negotiated "mutual security treaty" between the United States and Formosa "has further heightened this tension and is seriously threatening peace in the Far East."

"It is very obvious that the source of this tension is the United States and not China," the Communist premier said.

"The tension will be eliminated as a matter of course, if the United States stops its intervention in China's internal affairs and withdraws all its armed forces from Taiwan and the Taiwan (Formosa) straits."

FBI to Hold Law Enforcement Conference Here

Percy Wyly, II, Special Agent in Charge of the Springfield office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced today that the FBI Law Enforcement conference on Bank Robbery will be held on Feb. 18, at Harrisburg. Additional conferences will be held on Feb. 3 at Peoria, Feb. 4 at Bloomington, Feb. 8 at Danville, Feb. 9 at Urbana, Feb. 10 at Centralia, Feb. 11 at East St. Louis, Feb. 15 at Alton, Feb. 16 at Springfield, Feb. 17 at Carbondale, Feb. 23 at Quincy, Feb. 24 at Moline, and Feb. 25 at Galesburg.

Mr. Wyly said more than 100 conferences of this type have been scheduled this year by the FBI on a regional basis throughout the United States and are designed to cover violations of the Federal Bank Robbery statute. The conference will be aimed at bringing about additional coordination among law enforcement agencies and improved efficiency in dealing with this crime. They will be operated on a forum basis providing for a mutual exchange of information and knowledge by all participants.

The necessity of such conferences is highlighted by the fact that the victimization of financial institutions has increased steadily since the end of World War II. There were 517 violations of the Federal Bank Robbery Statute in 1954 as compared to 418 in the previous year, an increase of 23.6 per cent. Mr. Wyly also pointed out that it is almost impossible for a law enforcement agency to identify and apprehend bank robbers without assistance from bank employees and other citizens.

Congress Acts to Speed Approval of President's Request to Use Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's request for broad authority to use U. S. armed forces to prevent a Red Chinese invasion of Formosa headed today for quick congressional approval.

A resolution approving such presidential powers was introduced in the Senate and House as Mr. Eisenhower's special message was being read.

In the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn said he will call up the resolution Tuesday. He predicted it will pass with little opposition.

The House and Senate acted with unusual speed to rush the resolution on its way to passage. The House Foreign Affairs committee immediately scheduled a meeting to hear Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee arranged to hear him later.

Knowland Approves Resolution

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.), a frequent critic of Mr. Eisenhower's Far Eastern policies, said the resolution has his complete approval.

Acting Senate Democratic Leader Earle C. Clements (Ky.) withheld immediate direct comment. But he said there would be no effort to delay action on it. He would not predict whether it would be brought to the Senate floor Tuesday.

"Neither party has any monopoly on patriotism when the President asks something he says is essential to national security," Clements said.

Rayburn made it clear he personally believes Mr. Eisenhower could have taken all necessary action in the Formosa area without action by Congress.

Predicts Unanimous Support

"But he wanted to do it this way, so I think it ought to be done this way rather promptly," Rayburn said.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) expects the resolution "will receive almost unanimous support in Congress."

He said the resolution will definitely establish Congress as supporting the President and "I believe it will result in peace."

House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass.) said "there is no question but what our country is taking a calculated risk in this new and sudden policy." (Mr. Eisenhower said in his message the

Two Leaders Say Congress Will Cut Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two key congressmen on the House Appropriations Committee have predicted that Congress will slash about $1 billion from the President Eisenhower's budget requests for fiscal 1956.

But Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.), former committee chairman, and Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex.), head of a military appropriations subcommittee, saw little chance of a general tax cut in the succeeding fiscal year.

President Eisenhower recently spoke of a possible "modest" reduction. Mahon said he might vote for a slight cut in exemption allowances for small taxpayers.

Taber and Mahon on a television program expressed disappointment that Mr. Eisenhower was not able to submit a balanced budget. Taber predicted the administration and Congress would be able to achieve a balanced budget in fiscal 1957.

Mahon said, however, that it has become clear the administration has cut spending just about as deep as possible under present conditions. Any further steps toward a balanced budget, he said, must be in the form of increased revenues.

Mahon said that on the whole Mr. Eisenhower submitted "a pretty good budget." Taber agreed that it "generally is fairly good."

"I do feel," said Taber, "that there are spots in it where we can and should make cuts, of course."

Seeks Congress Resolution for Clear Authority

Action Sought for Navy to Defend Formosa, Pescadores

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today asked Congress for specific authority to use United States armed forces "if necessary" to defend Formosa and the nearby Pescadores Islands against the threat of Red Chinese attack.

Mr. Eisenhower said that as commander-in-chief he has the authority for some of the actions which might be required, but that he wants a congressional resolution to provide clear and public authority for the prompt employment of the armed forces if in his judgment it becomes necessary.

The chief executive did not spell out the precise measures he might take. But he said the United States must be prepared to fight should the Chinese Communist forces obviously undertake a move threatening to overrun Formosa.

He said his request was based on "a series of provocative political and military actions" by Communist China with the announced aim of capturing Formosa.

Mr. Eisenhower emphasized that the basic American purpose is to make sure that Formosa and the Pescadores do not fall into enemy hands. To assure this, he asked that Congress give him latitude to take whatever other actions are necessary in that area.

The wording was such that other necessary actions conceivably could include air strikes against the China mainland to upset any invasion plans.

Wouldn't Wait on U. N.

He said the situation had become sufficiently critical to require planning by this country "without awaiting action by the United Nations."

Therefore, he asked Congress "to participate now, by specific resolution, in measures" which "would contemplate the use of the armed forces of the United States if necessary to assure the security of Formosa and the Pescadores."

He said the United States must be ready to assist the withdrawal of Chinese Nationalist forces from some of the smaller Nationalist-held islands regarded by this government as not vital to the immediate defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

"We must be ready to assist the Republic of China to re-deploy and consolidate its forces if it should so desire," he said.

"Some of these forces are scattered throughout the smaller offshore islands as a result of historical rather than military reasons directly related to defending Formosa," he said.

7th Fleet Stands By

"Redemption" of Chiang Kai-Shek's forces presumably meant the evacuation of Nationalist forces from the Tachen Islands group some 200 miles north of Formosa.

The U. S. 7th Fleet is standing by ready to "cover" the evacuation of such forces. The United States regards the islands as not vital to the security of Formosa.

Mr. Eisenhower said because of (Continued on Page Six)

Bomb Experiments

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

When the idea of building an H-bomb was first proposed in this country, many thoughtful people voiced the fear that the mere test explosion of such a bomb might dangerously contaminate the earth's atmosphere. But responsible scientists dismissed this notion as unsound.

America went ahead to build the H-bomb, and so evidently did Russia, for both have since exploded such devices. After our experiment in mid-Pacific, a new furor arose because Japanese fishermen operating just beyond the official danger zone were harmed by radioactive dust from the "fall-out."
One fisherman later died.

Still, the generally held view was that it was safe to continue experimental explosions in areas of the globe remote from population.

More recently, however, a French scientist who got little attention for his words had an alarming comment to offer. He suggested that H-bomb experiments already conducted might have contaminated the atmosphere inadvertently, to the point where the human race may suffer damage.

But J. Robert Oppenheimer, eminent atomic physicist who now heads Princeton's Institute for Advanced Study, continues to believe that this fear is exaggerated, at least as it implies harm to the ordinary functioning of living human beings. He thinks what we have to worry about are not occasional isolated experiments, but the shower of radioactive dust that would fall upon the earth in a nuclear war.

Yet Oppenheimer says there is a vast ignorance about the possible effects of the nuclear "fall-out." It is well known that exposure to strong radioactivity renders human beings sterile. But the scientists who study these matters do not have any real idea how much harm may be done by what might be called a "mild dose" of radio-activity in the atmosphere. Could it mean stunted or deformed children in the future?

Perhaps only time and further bitter experiences like those suffered by the Japanese fishermen in 1954 will begin to crack these puzzling problems.

We cannot take too much comfort from the present conviction of Oppenheimer or other scientists that today's nuclear experiments are not harmful. Great doubt obviously exists about their effects.

We must resolve that doubt in favor of humanity's safety and future well-being. We must test with extreme caution, and we must strive for the strength that may help assure that these frightening weapons are never applied in war.

No Off Season for This Brand of Football

DREW PEARSON Says:
Joint Chiefs Of Staff Tell Ike Tachen Islands Are Essential;
Secretary Dulles Tells Ike Tachens Are Not Essential;
Ike Sides With Dulles.

WASHINGTON. — A vitally important, sometimes bitter debate, is taking place inside the White House and the State Department regarding future policy in China.
Upon its outcome may depend whether the U. S. A. gets embroiled in a shooting war in China.
Here are the chief participants in the argument:

1. Senator Knowland of California, chief champion of Chiang Kai-Shek. When he breakfasted with Eisenhower last week, it wasn't the first time he had argued with Ike over the Tachen Islands.
Knowland has been in and out of the White House privately, like a shuttlecock.

2. John Foster Dulles, also in and out of the White House, has been opposing the big, blunt senator from California.

3. Admiral Arthur Radford, persuasive, dynamic chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, also has beaten a path to the door of the White House. He opposes Dulles, sides with Knowland, claims that if the Reds take Tachen Islands, Formosa will fall next.

Here is the background of this vital, behind-the-scenes debate.

Last summer, as already published, the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended that the United States intervene to help Chiang Kai-Shek defend the island of Quemoy, three miles from the mainland, in the mouth of Amoy harbor.

General Matthew Ridgway, Army chief of staff, was the lone dissenter. He feared the United States would get dangerously embroiled with China.

Since that time, the 7th Fleet has supplied Chiang's forces on Quemoy with food and munitions. And a state of indecision as to whether we would or would not defend Quemoy has prevailed. Eisenhower had indicated to advisers only that he would decide the matter when the time came.

TACHENS "ESSENTIAL"
The Tachen Islands, about 200 miles up the China coast and about 12 miles away from the mainland, also came before the Joint Chiefs of Staff — later. Here the recommendation was . . . the Tachens are "necessary for the defense of Formosa."

In this case, General Ridgway did not dissent. He agreed with Admiral Radford, even though the two have been at loggerheads on other Far Eastern policy most of the time.

Here are the reasons the Joint Chiefs of Staff gave the White House as to why the Tachen Islands are essential:

1. The United States, working through the Nationalists, has radar on the Tachens, which can spot approaching Red planes as they head for Formosa.

2. Red China wants the main Tachen island as a jet base, and its capture would give the Communist a strategic jump-off place to attack Formosa.

This is because Red jets now operate about 50 miles south of Shanghai — the nearest hard-surfaced air base to Formosa. At one time the Reds tried out a dirt runway air base, but had some bad cracks. So if they take the Tachens, they gain control of a good, though small, hard-surfaced airfield from which they could attack Formosa more readily.

The Tachens are a group of small islands, some of which are not strategically important.

However, Yikiang island, captured by the Communists last week, is considered important — at least in the Pentagon. It's the first island outside the 12-mile limit which the Reds have been able to take away from Chiang

Kai-Shek. Furthermore, the Reds captured it despite rough water and despite the fact it was defended by about 1,000 Nationalist troops. Finally, the Communists took Yikiang one month ahead of the schedule we had expected them to follow.

Having gained control of Yik-iang, the Reds can now easily train their artillery on the main Tachen island.

All of this is why Senator Knowland has been in and out of the White House like a shuttlecock.

DULLES SAYS NO

For, when the attack on the Tachens began, Chiang Kai-Shek immediately cabled Washington, requesting supplies from the 7th Fleet. Admiral Radford went to the White House to back up Chi-ang's request.

However, Secretary Dulles again opposed. What worries the State Department is the fact that the Nationalists have already lost two ships supplying the Tachens. They were bombed by Red airplanes and

Select Cast For Operetta At High School

"Sunday Excursion," one of the operettas to be presented at the Harrisburg Township high school
Feb. 24, has recently been cast by John Schork, vocal music director.
The operetta consists of two girl soloists and three boy soloists.
Barbara Dunn, Dorothy Schneider, Carroll Clark, Oren Brown, and Dick Fritts were the HTHS students selected for the parts.

The story of the operetta concerns the two girls who go from New Haven to New York for a weekend, and on the return trip on the train are having a very dull time. Two boys, Oren Brown and Dick Fritts, have also been to New York and are on the same train and also having a dull time.
During the trip, one of the girls and one of the boys recognize each other, though they have not been friends in the past. Their friends would like to be introduced though and proceed in persuading them for introductions. The rest of the ride finally proves to be very enjoyable. The part of the train

Liberty Junior G. A.'s Meet With Mrs. Clyde Butler

The Liberty Junior G. A.'s met at the home of Mrs. Clyde Butler.

The meeting was called to order by the president after which the group sang "We've a Story to Tell." The minutes were read by the secretary, Ann Murrow, and an interesting and educational lesson on the Jewish people was studied. Girls taking part were Ann Murrow, Dixie Owen, Peggy and Carolyn Douglas, Karen Winkelman and Phyllis Hull.

The meeting was dismissed by Karen Winkelman and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Mary Butler.

Dr. and Mrs. N. A. Herrmann have returned from St. Louis where Dr. Hermann has been a patient for the past month at Barnes hospital, due to a heart condition. He has made satisfactory progress and anticipates returning to his practice about March 1. Meanwhile, he will rest at his home for about ten days, then go to Florida for about a month for continued convalescence.

Mrs. Daisy Rude was admitted to Harrisburg hospital last week.

Mrs. Roy Adams Hostess To Harrisburg Home Bureau Unit

The Harrisburg Home Bureau unit met with Mrs. Roy Adams, 120 West Church, Friday afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. W. F. Applegate, and roll call was answered with "How I can help my community in 1955." The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Archie Abney, and the unit voted to give $5 to the polio drive. Lists were given to each member on "How do you rate as a family dietitian?" to be filled out and brought to the next meeting which will be with Mrs. K. W. Kinnaman.

The minor topic, "Pancakes for All Meals," was ably presented by Mrs. Ann Williams who told how her grandmother used to make pancakes on a hot rock in the fireplace. She stated that so much progress has been made, that one may buy the pancake mix in a box and by turning a button on the stove pancakes may be cooked quickly.

Mrs. J. V. Capel gave the major topic on "Care of Bathroom and Kitchen Equipment," displaying first a large assortment of cleaners with and without bleach from the coarsest and cleaner to a grade fine as talc. She named the correct cleaners to use on kitchen furniture to keep a glaze on the enamel, and concluded that kitchen and bathroom furniture is the most expensive in a house, and it is up to the housewife to give it the proper care for lasting durability.

Mrs. Adams, assisted by Mrs. Williams, served ice box delight and hot coffee to ten members: Mrs. Roy Adams, Mrs. Archie Abney, Mrs. W. F. Applegate, Mrs. A. J. Bair, Mrs. J. V. Capel, Mrs. L. B. Kimmel, Mrs. J. W. Myers, Mrs. W. L. Tate, Mrs. C. L. Travis, and Mrs. Nina Williams.

Mother of Mrs. Archie Abney Honored With Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Melvina Turner of Marion was honored with a birthday dinner Sunday, Jan. 23, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Abney.

A lovely cake which was baked and decorated by Mrs. Turner's daughter-in-law, Mrs. O. H. Turner of Johnston City, centered the table. A nephew, Raymond Allen of Carrier Mills, offered thanks after which the group sang "Happy Birthday."

A granddaughter, Marilyn Childers, read the poem, "A Perfect Day for Grandma," by VanDyke. Mrs. Turner received many lovely gifts.

In the afternoon pictures were taken of family groups. The following were present: Three sons and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Orel W. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Turner, Marion, and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Turner of Johnston City, grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Childers, Carolyn Turner, Paul Turner and his fiancée, Carolyn Joyner, and Mary Donna Brush, fiancée of Robert Turner, a grandson who is in the Navy, all of Marion, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Allen of Carrier Mills, Mrs. Melvina Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Abney.

If your child catches more than one cold a winter—
SHE NEEDS DOES MORE RELIEF THAT THAN WORK ON CHEST

Relief from Stiffness, Coughing and Muscular Aches

The worst part of suffering from a cold is due to congestion and coughing. That's why your child needs medication that does more than just work on the chest. She needs Vicks VapoRub — because it acts two ways at once:

1. VapoRub relieves muscular soreness and tightness, stimulates chest surfaces.
2. At the same time, VapoRub's special medicated vapors also bring relief with every breath.

You can't see these vapors, but your child can feel them

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Ollie Reynolds, who passed away one year ago, Jan. 24.
Little we knew with dawn that morn.
The sorrow it would bring.
The blow was hard, the shock severe.
She little thought the end was near.
If all the world were ours to give,
We would give it, yes and more;
To see your smiling face again,
Come shining through the door.
Sadly missed by husband, children and grandchildren, son and daughter-in-law. *175-1

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the Screen: Hottest and most dramatic Oscar race in Academy Award history is simmering on Hollywood's front burner—Judy Garland vs. Grace Kelly. The girl born in a vaudeville trunk vs. the rich girl born in a Philadelphia mansion. The "old pro" vs. the newcomer.

The New York Critics Award to newcomer Grace for the best acting of 1954 in "The Country Girl," "Rear Window" and "Dial M for Murder" hasn't stopped the dial O-for-Oscar Judy Garland boom for "A Star Is Born."

Now the heavy publicity artillery is being rolled up to the front lines, and I'm dusting off my old air raid warden's helmet for the fireworks.

Even Oscar better duck. The publicity heat could melt the old boy.

Jane Russell is doing her own singing in "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes," but not so her costar, Jeanne Crain. Anita Ellis' singing voice will issue from Jeanne's lips, and she isn't happy about the vocal blackout.

Gloria Grahame's ex, Director Nick Ray, and French dazzer Genevieve ("Knock on Wood") Aumont have reached the deeper emotions stage... Now that Gary Crosby has dropped out of Stanford, he faces Army induction. But right now the junior Crosby's health graph isn't what it should be.

CLEO MOORE is shrugging off the rumor that she and recording star Tony Travis are in the hitching mood. She told me: "After I do what I want to do in this business and after he gets to be a big singing star—who knows? Right now, we're not thinking of marriage."

Leslie Caron tried to explain to a Fox press agent on the "Daddy Long Legs" set that the title of her French play, "Orvet," means a small snake.

"You know," she said, "You have them in this country—underwear snakes."

Garter snakes is what the French pastry meant!

PRIVATE EAR NOTES: Interesting aside on the battling Edmund Purdoms is that Norma Shearer has been Mrs. P's closest pal during the misery hours... Humphrey Bogart as cupid! "You kids ought to know each other," he said, introducing Dewey Martin to Gloria de Haven. It was a romance cue... Columbia vetoed a 10-day personal appearance tour by Aldo Ray to plug Karner's "Battle Cry"—another explosion in the battle between the gritty-voiced star and his home lot.

Mrs. Edward G. Robinson, Jr., decided against another make-up session and will file for divorce. They were apart during his hectic front-page life... Speed Action on Better Deal Under Korean GI Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Veterans committee today called up for short hearings and fast action a bill to give men in military service on or before Jan. 21 a better deal under the Korean GI Bill.

President Eisenhower has set that date as the cut off for accumulation of entitlement to war-time veterans benefits under the GI Bill and other veterans laws.

The bill before the committee was aimed at making available full school benefits of the GI Bill—up to four years in college at government expense—to men who are in service on the cutoff date but who will not at that time have served long enough to get the maximum school entitlement.

Committee Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.), who sponsored the bill, predicted it would be recommended unanimously to the House after hearings lasting a day or two. The bill has the backing of President Eisenhower, many members of House and Senate, and most interested groups. It seemed assured of early passage.

Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY) in a statement to the committee, supported the extension. "All entered with the expectation that they would be eligible for certain benefits as the result of their service," he said. "We expect them to keep faith with the United States. The United States must keep faith with them."

Rep. Laurence Curtis (R-Mass) in a prepared statement, said he had received letters "from parents of young men now in the service asking that justice be done in the cases of those who voluntarily joined the armed services on the understanding that GI educational benefits would continue."

"It is only fair that these men who entered service with this understanding, and whose education is being interrupted, be given a chance to complete their education when they are released from active duty," Curtis said.

Seine Reaches Highest Level In 31 Years

PARIS (AP)—The rampaging Seine River reached its highest level in 31 years today, flooding thousands of homes and jobs and driving giant rats from the sewers of Paris.

Then the waters slowly began to fall.

Authorities warned that the Seine may rise again to a dangerous new crest Tuesday or later this week unless the rains end.

At least 22 persons have died in the floods and damage was in the millions of dollars.

Dead-weary American airmen helped evacuate families in the flooded Paris suburbs where muddy yellow water of the Seine and the Marne swirled into thousands of homes and shut down 200 factories.

Thousands of giant rats swarmed into basements of riverside buildings and the Paris prefecture of police warned inhabitants to kill them or call for official help.

It was the rats which carried the great plagues of the Middle Ages.

The disaster was the worst since 1924.

the air situation in the area, such withdrawals would be impractical without armed American assistance.

"Moreover, we must be alert to any concentration or deployment of Chinese Communist forces obviously undertaken to facilitate attack upon Formosa, and be prepared to take appropriate military action," he said.

Mr. Eisenhower mentioned Red attacks on Quemoy and the main Tachen Islands as examples of a Red prelude to an attempt to conquer Formosa. He said these attacks posed a "serious danger to the security of our country and of the entire Pacific area and indeed to the peace of the world."

Wants Flexibility in Defense

But later he explained that the authority for the defense of Formosa had to be a relatively flexible thing.

He said he did not suggest that this country enlarge its basic defensive obligations beyond Formosa and the Pescadores. "But unhappily," he added, "the danger of armed attack directed against that area compels us to take into account closely related localities and actions which, under current conditions, might determine the failure or the success of such an attack."

He said the new congressional authority would be used "only in situations which are recognizable as parts of, or definite preliminaries to, an attack upon the main positions of Formosa and the Pescadores."

Thus his message seemed broad enough to include any "related localities and actions" which might be vital to the ultimate success or failure of a Red attack.

Ready to Act on Own

Two of the Nationalist-held islands which have been the subject of attention are Quemoy and Matsu.

Quemoy sits only a few miles off the big Red Chinese port of Amoy and Matsu is offshore from the port of Foochow. Both Nationalist-held islands have heavy guns.

Stating his readiness to act on his own authority if necessary before Congress can complete action on the resolution, the President cited the possibility that emergency action might be forced upon us in order to protect the rights and security of the United States.

Congress Swings Into Action
The congressional resolution to implement the President's message was being gone over by Chairman James P. Richards (D-S.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee with the State Department.

Richards planned to introduce the resolution in the House this afternoon.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee immediately called a closed-door meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to discuss the resolution to back up Mr. Eisenhower's request.

George and Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.), ranking GOP member of the committee, were co-sponsoring the resolution in the Senate.

Mint Dumps Rare Silver Dollars On the Market

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Old coin dealers hastily reshuffled their price lists after the U. S. mint here dumped more than three million previously rare silver dollars onto the market.

Mrs. Rae V. Blester, superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint, said the "Liberty Head" coins minted in the 1880s, which were stored in the vaults of the mint here since their manufacture, were shipped out because the mint staff was not aware they were valued between $2 and $17 by numismatists.

She explained that the minting of "Liberty Heads" was halted in 1904 but those already on hand had been kept in the vault to back up early paper dollars which called for redemption with a "silver dollar." Later the bills were changed to read "payable in silver."

From 1921 to 1935 the "peace dollar" coins were minted and these were sufficient to keep up with the demand until this year. Recently the Mint Bureau at Washington sent out its usual authorization to ship silver dollars to banks to meet the Christmas demand.

The section of the vault here from which the silver dollars were withdrawn in recent years was depleted and employees switched to another section, not knowing it contained the "rare" Liberty heads.

The bags of coins included some minted in 1884 valued in coin catalogues at $13, others stamped 1886 with a $13.50 value, 1889s worth $11, and even 1887s, worth $17 each.

Northwestern Risks Its First Place Standing Against Minnesota Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Northwestern's cagers aimed today for the Wildcats' second undisputed Big Ten basketball crown. But tonight will be a major test to determine whether the early leaders might be able to go all the way in perhaps the best balanced race in loop history.

Northwestern, whose only Big Ten cage crown was won in 1931, bounced into undisputed possession of first place Saturday with a 93-73 triumph over pre-season favorite Iowa as Michigan State dumped the other leader, Minnesota, 87-75.

The combination put Northwestern on top with three wins in four league games while the Hawkeyes, Gophers and idle Illinois shared second place with three wins in five contests. Michigan also figured in the picture with only two losses in four games.

Tonight all of the twice-beaten clubs might get back into closer contention. Northwestern risks its early lead at Minneapolis against Minnesota, and the Gophers will be aiming for revenge for a 74-72 licking suffered on the Northwestern floor earlier.

However, Northwestern's fast break worked against Iowa and Michigan State used a fast break to down the Gophers; hence Northwestern might be able to defend its hold on the lead even away from home.

In addition, Northwestern has come up with a pair of scoring twins. Frank Ehmann, fourth in the conference in scoring with a 22.8-point per game average, and Harold Grant, sixth with a 22-point mark, to match the Gophers' Dick Garmaker, third with 28.5, and Chuck Mencil, 13th with 17.8.

Locals Will Compete In Saline County Tourney This Week

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs this week turned their eyes toward the Saline county basketball tournament after absorbing a 61-39 defeat from Mt. Vernon here Saturday night.

Harrisburg will compete with Eldorado, Carrier Mills and Galatia in the four-team, blind draw meet, to be held Friday and Saturday nights in Davenport gym.

The Saturday night loss to the Rams came as the Mt. Vernon boys hit 26 out of 57 shots for 45 per cent while the Bull Dogs were able to connect with only 11 out of 53, or 20 per cent.

Rams Lead at Half 26-21

The first quarter was close but after that the Rams pulled away. With Don Price hitting for six points, the Bull Dogs stayed with the Rams the first frame, which ended 10 to 10. The second period was not too bad for the locals and the half ended with them but five points behind, 26 to 21. The Bull Dogs had only two fouls called on them the first half.

But in the third frame the Rams doubled the count on Harrisburg, scoring 20 points to 10, and held a firm 46-31 lead as the quarter ended.

Don Price was high for the locals with 15 points. Fred Deichman of the Rams, hitting well from under the basket, was high scorer of the tilt with 28. Dave Anglin, although he jumped well, had one of his poorest nights in scoring as he had to try hard for most of his shots.

Bull Pups Win

Mt. Vernon played without the services of its stellar guard, Jerry Graham, who made the all-star team picked at the Egyptian holiday tournament here last month. Graham fell and broke a bone in his wrist a week ago and had his arm in a cast.

The Bull Pups beat the Mt. Vernon freshman-sophomore team in the preliminary game, 50 to 47 as three locals scored in the double figures. John Ziegler had 15, Bill Henshaw 14 and Bennie Fulkerson 12. Wayne Stone had 6 and Byron Jones 2. Charles Cummins, only other Pup to get into the game, did not score.

$4,200 Wages

Now Taxable for Social Security

As of January 1, 1955, a significant change took place in the present social security law. On that date all covered workers started to pay social security taxes on up to $4,200 per year instead of the present maximum of $3,600 per year. E. Bishop Hill, manager of the Harrisburg social security office, said today.

Actually this change will not be immediately apparent in an employee's pay check, since there will be no increase in the amount withheld. However, when a worker reaches $3,600 in any one year his social security deductions will not stop at that point. Both he and his employer will continue to contribute until his earnings reach $4,200. The same increase is also to be applied to self-employed individuals.

This broadening of the earnings base may mean increased contributions of up to $12 per year for each worker and an equal amount for his employer. A self-employed individual may pay up to $18 more each year. Mr. Hill states that such increased contributions lead to an increase in maximum retirement benefits from $98.50 to $108.50 per month with proportionately higher dependent and survivor benefits.

Fined

Archie Joiner, local youth, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol when arraigned before Police Magistrate Charles McKenzie and was fined $100 and costs. Young Joiner was arrested at 2 a. m. Sunday by city police.

Fight The Wild River

by EDMUNDS CLAUSSEN

THE STORY: When the ore company at La Paz turned over Captain Crotch's barges to his Colorado River competitor, Captain Jamison, Crotch went in pursuit. He caught up with Jamison at Castle Dome and in the ensuing fight, he caused one of Jamison's ships, the San Diego, to be hopelessly grounded. The next move is to recover the barges.

XVII

Goss drew up short in his tracks. "They ain't asleep," he complained raggedly and his hand slipped free his pistol.

Crotch eyed the gun shrewdly and shrugged. Jamison had started this, not he. There was no law along the length of the river save that which a man enforced with his own will. Tonight he meant to write into the river code a new chapter, and a finish to Jamison's treachery.

They stalked forward noiselessly along the strip. When they reached the tree to which the first barge lines had been snubbed they were perhaps 75 feet from Amador's stern.

Their axes swung back in unison and then the stillness blew up in cracking rifles. Crotch felt the sting of splintered hickory against his palms as a ball whizzed off the end of his ax. Instinctively he fell on his stomach, saw Goss already hugging the bank. Lead whined above their heads and drove up little geysers of sand about them. Their axes were forgotten as they tore free their guns. Goss got off a flurry of shots toward the Amador.

From the edge of his eye Crotch had caught the muzzle flame of another rifleman; he had heard the whine of lead ricocheting off his ax and knew in what direction lay their gravest danger. "They're in a gully beside the General Heath!"

"There's a dozen guns yammerin' at us from back of Amador's paddle box!"

"They're only Cocopahs," Crotch grunted. "Indians can't shoot, especially at night. But yonder lies Jamison!"

Crotch rose on his haunches, crawling toward Jamison's nest. A ball from the direction geysered the landing strip in his face. He threw a shot in the direction of the muzzle flame. Immediately a second gun answered, Maddix!

Jamison's voice brought him a taunting anger. "Let up, Crotch! We don't aim to kill anyone. But you'll stay away from my barges!"

The two Navigation captains had chosen a natural pit behind the landing strip in which it would be impossible to reach them with lead. The position which they occupied, virtually beside Crotch's own steamboat, allowed them the advantage of a dangerous crossfire against Crotch. Melott had opened with rifles from the General Heath's main deck but their fire was ineffectual, passing harmlessly above Jamison's head.

At that moment a remarkable phenomenon took place in Jamison's rifle pit. Crotch lay still, pondering the violent and continued explosions erupting behind the breastwork of the gully. He heard Maddix's sharp yell of pain. It puzzled Crotch, and then he recalled the firecrackers that had made such a din during Chung Wong's funeral procession. Linda Wong, naturally enough, would have brought her husband a goodly fresh supply from China with which to ward off evil spirits before entering her new home. Someone on the General Heath's upper decks was tossing them into Jamison's pit.

After considerable moving around in the pit Maddix finally began crawling up the bank. He was pressing one hand frantically to his eyes, and the swift thought struck Crotch that one of the firecrackers had exploded directly in front of his face. A heavy blast of powder and dirt in the eyes might well disturb a man, might even destroy his vision.

Jamison tried to pull Maddix back into the pit but simply succeeded in himself being drawn in to the clear as the other captain fought him violently. Both men had lost their guns in the gully and they were now dependent on their Amador crew for support.

"Wait, Crotch! We can make some arrangement. The barges—Crotch's balled fist drove the rest back between his teeth. He chopped in again with a blow and the man before him teetered uncertainly on his feet, fell backward into the gully. Now Goss was at his side, driving Maddix back. But Maddix was a game, slugging fighter when aroused. Blinded as he was by exploding powder, he still put up heroic resistance. It was some moments before Goss knocked him into the pit beside Jamison. Then they leaped in and turned both men on their faces, lacing their arms with their own belts.

When it was finished Crotch leaned back, breathing heavily. "I figure it'll be safer to haul them on board until we get our barges in tow," he ventured. He lifted his voice in an order for his deck hands.

While the Heath's deck crew were trotting them over the landing strip, Goss asked curiously.

"What do you figure blew Jamison out of this gully?"

Captain Crotch gestured with his hand and Goss peered over the bank. What he saw was a slim figure in a silk kimono standing behind the rail top side. Beside her was the squat figure of China Boy with his shirttails flat against his thighs. While Goss stared, the Chinese woman lifted her arm to throw. From the tip of her fingers shone the red glow of punk. . . .

Collinsville Youth Shot While Returning Home from Cage Game

EAST ST. LOUIS — James Lindsey, 16, of Collinsville, Ill., was hospitalized here today with a bullet wound in his head.

The youth told police he was returning home from a basketball game Saturday night when he stopped by the home of his uncle, John Gioicoletto, 46, to play a trick.

Gioicoletto said he answered the door several times when he heard knocks and thought there was a prowler.

Finally he went to the door with a .22 caliber rifle and it discharged accidentally, he said. The bullet struck Lindsey in the nose.
